

THE TRUDGE-AWAY LAD

By JAY E. IDEN.

So weary, so weary of running,
So weary of romping and play,
The Trudge-Away Lad to his mother
Comes home through the brink of the day;
The Trudge-Away Lad from his roaming
Through Trudge-Away meadow's alarms,
By portals of love to discover
A haven in mother's dear arms.

And wonderfully sweet is his story
Of Trudge-Away meadows so grand,
Where tower the castles of Fancy,
And wonderful battlements stand.
And patient the mother who listens
While little boy Trudge-Away tells
Of perilous dangers attending
The voyager through Trudge-Away dells.

Then lullabies sound in the evening,
Forgotten are perils I know,
And launched are the Slumberland vessels
That glide where the dream rivers flow;
Where islands are fruited with kisses,
And blossom the lilies of joy—
Oh, wonderful heart of a mother,
Oh, wonderful Trudge-Away Boy!

Nip and Tuck.

The Philosopher.
"Is it easy to become a philosopher?" asked the young man from the tall grass district.
"Easiest thing in the world," answered the home-grown specimen. "All you have to do is utter truths you don't believe yourself and can't induce others to believe."

What It Leads To.
His Wife (reading)—A scientist claims that cryptococcusanthogenicus causes yellow fever.
Her Husband—Is that so? I always thought it was something of that kind that caused lockjaw.

Wherein They Differ.
Little Lemuel—Say, paw, what's the difference between a bachelor maid and a spinster?
Paw—A bachelor maid, son, always lives in the city, while a spinster invariably dwells in a small town.

Take Your Choice.
"Who is the greatest man living today?" asked Heiny.
"Well," replied Omar, "that is merely a matter of opinion. There are several of us."

Cause and Effect.
Harker—Your friend Lambley is rather an odd chap, isn't he?
Parker—Yes—result of a plunge in the stock market a few years ago.
Harker—How's that?
Parker—He failed to come out even.

Some Are Acquire.
"They say," remarked the moralizer, "that aggressive and impulsive people usually have black eyes."
"That's right," rejoined the demoralizer. "If they are not born with them they manage to acquire them later."

Wherein They Differ.
"A man," she remarked, "would rather have contentment without love than love without contentment."
"Yes," he rejoined, "and a woman would rather have love without contentment than contentment without love."

What Women Are Doing

Over 100 women in the United States manage dairy farms.
The Pennsylvania woman's division for national preparedness has outlined a plan for feeding troops in time of war or in time of disaster.
Miss Kathleen Burke, daughter of the president of the London & North-western railroad, is employed by the English government to do secret mission work.
In the practice of the almost forgotten art of print inlaying, Miss S. F. Shaw, a Maine girl, is at work at the Widener Memorial library at Harvard.
Mrs. Charles Voorhees of the New York Fencing club, won the woman's national fencing championship recently at her home club by coming through without the loss of a bout.
Princess Alexander of Teck is acting as a kitchenmaid in the Princess Christian's Red Cross hospital in Edgefield, England, where she helps cook the meals, wash dishes and do other odd jobs around the kitchen.
